From: Frederik Eaton
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 12/16/01 10:37pm
Subject: Microsoft Settlement

- Microsoft must be required to provide documentation about APIs, ABIs, and communications protocols to individuals and developers of free software, not just to commercial vendors. A large part of Microsoft's competition comes from free software community, and to deny its members the same rights as commercial interests under the new antitrust settlement would be absurd.

- If there will be any kind of committee appointed to oversee Microsoft, Steve Satchell should be on it.